

EMERGENCY COVID-19 TECHNOLOGY PLEDGE & LICENSE

PREAMBLE

The ongoing COVID-19 pandemic is an unprecedented challenge to public health worldwide. Mitigating the spread of the SARS-CoV-2 virus and developing treatments for the illness it causes are critical global priorities. Doing so as efficiently and effectively as possible is a moral imperative.

Under normal circumstances, the patent and copyright regimes play an important role in incentivizing biomedical innovation. But in the present crisis, the risk of infringement liability may chill or slow the investments in research and the process of scientific discovery needed to end this pandemic with minimal loss of life and social and economic disruption.

Accordingly, the undersigned institution intends to, and by the executed version of this document hereby does, grant to anyone around the world a free, non-exclusive license to use any and all of its patent and copyright rights that are not otherwise exclusively licensed, subject to the following scope and timing constraints and the terms hereof:

- The use must be in the service of research, development, commercialization, or exploitation of knowledge, devices, tests, tools, or products specifically designed to combat the COVID-19 pandemic; and
- The license granted here is time-limited, and will expire one year after the World Health Organization declares the pandemic over.

The purpose of this initiative is to facilitate the development and deployment of life-saving, public-health-improving tools during this crisis. Once the crisis is over, the license granted herein will lapse prospectively, and continued use of such tools will require a negotiated patent license. For the avoidance of doubt, irrespective of the enforceability of the license granted herein, the undersigned institution pledges not to enforce any patent or copyright rights in a manner inconsistent with the spirit and intent of this Pledge & License.

TERMS

1. Definitions

- a. “Copyright Rights” means all rights granted copyright owners or exclusive licensees under copyright laws.
- b. “COVID-19 Pandemic” means the global health crisis and individual illnesses arising from the spread and effects of the virus SARS-CoV-2, popularly known as COVID-19.

- c. “COVID-19 Purposes” means research, development, commercialization, or exploitation of knowledge, devices, tests, tools, or products specifically designed to combat the COVID-19 Pandemic.
- d. “Duration of the COVID-19 Pandemic” means the period up to and including one year after the World Health Organization shall declare that the COVID-19 pandemic, as that institution understands that term or an equivalent one, is over.
- e. “Institution” means the institution identified over the “Institution” line in the signature block on the last page of this document, below the phrase “Licensor Signatory.”
- f. “Institution’s IP Rights” means any interest in Patent Rights or Copyright Rights owned by the Institution, including without limitation partial interests, not otherwise encumbered by a license or assignment that would be violated by the rights granted herein.
- g. “Licensee” means the institution or entity identified over the “Institution/Entity” line in the signature block on the last page of this document, below the phrase “Licensee Signatory.”
- h. “Patent Rights” means all rights granted patent owners or exclusive licensees under patent laws.

2. Grant of Rights

- a. Rights Granted. Institution hereby grants, and Licensee hereby accepts, a free, non-exclusive, irrevocable, fully sublicensable license to exploit in any manner granted rightsowners or exclusive licensees under U.S. patent and/or copyright laws all of Institution’s IP Rights for the Duration of the COVID-19 Pandemic, but solely to the extent that Licensee uses such license for COVID-19 Purposes.
- b. Rights Reserved. Institution does not grant any rights other than those referenced under subsection a. above. Uses for any purpose other than COVID-19 Purposes, or at any time beyond the Duration of the COVID-19 Pandemic, remain unlicensed.

3. No Warranty

- a. Institution disclaims any warranty of fitness for use, validity of rights, or other representation concerning the rights granted herein. By accepting the terms hereof, Licensee waives any claim against Institution that rights granted herein are insufficient for any purpose and/or that Institution has misrepresented the scope of rights granted herein.

4. Additional Terms

- a. Availability of Alternate Licenses. Nothing herein shall preclude or prevent Licensee from negotiating a longer-lasting or more broadly applicable patent, copyright, or other license from Institution.
- b. Assignment. The rights granted to Licensee herein are freely assignable, provided that such assignment shall not alter the scope of rights granted in section 2.a above.
- c. Enforceability. Institution and Licensee agree that this document constitutes an enforceable license agreement, with the consideration flowing to Institution consisting inter alia of benefits arising from Licensee's efficiently granted option to engage in research, development, commercialization, or other exploitation of technology that might otherwise require individualized or other license negotiations, including without limitation resource savings for Institution, and the potential for salutary technological or other developments in furtherance of Institution's public interest mission.
- d. Effect of Preamble. To the extent of any conflict, the terms of the sections 1 through 4 hereof control over the terms of the Preamble.
